Tonight's Artists

A cellist since the age of two, Shauna Rolston has developed a distinguished international reputation as a soloist, recording artist, proponent for new music, and chamber music.

One of Canada's most celebrated musicians, Shauna has received the Pro Musicis International Award, the Government of Alberta's Award for Excellence, and the Commemorative Medal for the 125th Anniversary of Canadian Confederation. In 1986, she was recognized as a Young Artist to Watch by Musical America, and in 1993, Shauna was named one of the Canadian Leaders of the Future by Maclean's Magazine.

Shauna has performed on four continents, appearing in recital and concerto engagements in Tokyo, Seoul, Jerusalem, Tel Aviv, Sao Paulo, Toronto, Montreal, New York, Boston, Los Angeles, Washington D.C., London, Paris, Amsterdam, Budapest, and Rome. Since making a spectacular Town Hall debut at the age of 16, Ms. Rolston has appeared at many of the major music centres around the world. In past seasons she has performed at the Concertgebouw, Wigmore Hall, the Franz Liszt Academy, and the Carnegie Recital Hall. In 1994, Shauna was featured in the inaugural season of the North York Performing Arts Centre.

Shauna made her recording debut at the age of 16, and has been featured on several discs. She has appeared on record with the London Philharmonia Orchestra, the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra, and pianist Menahem Pressler. The recording with Mr. Pressler featured Shauna's own transcription of the Fauré Violin Sonata. Her most recent CD, recorded with the Calgary Philharmonic in 1994, includes the Elgar and Saint Saens concerti.

Shauna earned a B.A. in Art History from Yale University and a Master of Music Degree from the Yale School of Music. At Yale, Shauna studied with Aldo Parisot, served as teaching assistant for Mr. Parisot's class, and was the Artistic Director of Music at the Yale Club in New York City. In 1994, she was appointed Professor of Cello at the University of Toronto.

Lorand Fenyves was born in Budapest on February 20, 1918 and graduated from the Franz Liszt Academy of Music. He was concertmaster of the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra (1938-1951), and l'Orchestre de la Suisse Romande (1957-1965). During those years he also founded the Israel String Quartet which became the foremost chamber ensemble in that country (1938-1957).

As a teacher, he was co-founder of the Israel Academy of Music in 1938, was appointed to the "classe de virtuosité" in the Conservatoire de Geneve

(1957-1965), and became a professor at the University of Toronto, a position which he still holds. He is frequently invited to give masterclasses in violin solo and chamber music repertoire throughout North America, Europe and Japan. He has been associated with the Banff Centre of the Arts, Alberta, Canada since 1970 and continues to teach chamber music and hold masterclasses during the summer session in Banff, Alberta as well as at Mount Orford Quebec. Since 1980 he has returned regularly as a guest teacher to the Tohogakven Music School in Tokyo. Since 1984 he has been a member of the Faculty of Music at the University of Western Ontario.

In the 1993-94 season he played concerts with orchestras and gave recitals in the United States, Austria, Switzerland and Hungary. Professor Fenyves participated in various chamber music festivals in Banff; Mt. Orford; Mondsee, Austria; and Prussia Cove, England. He gave master classes in Prussia Cove, England; the Franz Liszt Academy, Hungary; The Cleveland Institute; Banff and Mt. Orford. His latest recording, Bartok's Second Violin-Piano Sonata made with pianist Andras Schiff, was just released on the Decca label.

Toronto-born pianist Patricia Parr is internationally renowned for the sensitivity and integrity of her musicianship. She is a co-founder of the distinguished chamber ensemble AMICI.

An outstanding chamber musician, she has collaborated with many ensembles, including the Guarneri, Orford and Mendelssohn String Quartets, and has performed here and abroad at numerous festivals. She has worked as a duo recitalist with many artists including violist Rivka Golani, cellist Daniel Domb, and violinist Lorand Fenyves, with whom she has recorded the sonatas of Bartok and Franck. Her CBC recording of clarinet and piano works with Joaquin Valdepeñas was a 1987 Juno nominee.

Since her debut with the Toronto Symphony at the age of nine, she has been soloist with major orchestras in North America including the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Cleveland Orchestra, and the Pittsburgh Symphony, under the batons of such conductors as Eugene Ormandy, William Steinberg and Walter Susskind.

Ms. Parr is a graduate of the Curtis Institute of Music, where she studied with Isabelle Vengerova and Rudolf Serkin. Patricia Parr's teaching career began with the Cleveland Institute, followed by an appointment at Pittsburgh's Duquesne University School of Music. In 1974 she returned to Canada as professor at the University of Toronto's Faculty of Music, teaching piano and chamber music.

1994 RECIPIENT DEBORAH BRADLEY

Deborah Bradley is entering her fourth year at the Faculty of Music in the Music Education degree program. Her major instrument is organ which she studies with Douglas Bodle. With a special interest in choral music, she is active as a student member of the University Symphony Chorus as well as Assistant Conductor and accompanist for the Mississauga Festival Choir (directed by Lori-Anne Dolloff), Assistant Conductor for the High Park Girls' Choir of Toronto (Artistic Director: Ann Cooper Gay) and as the Music Director for Wesley Mimico United Church in Etobicoke.
